THE SWORD OF ROBERT LEE

Forth from its scabbard pure and bright
Flashed the sword of Lee!
Far in the front of the deadly fight,
High o'er the brave in the cause of Right,
Its stainless sheen, like a beacon light,
Led us to Victory.

****

Forth from its scabbard, high in the air
Beneath Virginia's sky;
And they who saw it gleaming there,
And knew who bore it knelt to swear
That where that sword led they would dare
To follow and to die.

****

Forth from its scabbard! how we prayed
That sword might victor be;
And when our triumph was delayed,
And many a heart grew sore afraid,
We still hoped on while gleamed the blade
Of Noble Robert Lee.

****

Forth from its scabbard all in vain,
Forth flashed the sword of Lee,
'Tis shrouded now in its sheath again
It sleeps the sleep of our noble slain,
Defeated yet without a stain
Proudly and peacefully.

Potato and Corn Production In County Show Big Increase

Decrease Last Ten Years In Other Crops; Livestock Also Decreases

A large increase in Appomattox County's production of white potato sweet potato and yam, and corn crops since 1919 is shown in the preliminary announcement of the 1930 farm census made by the Federal Bureau of Census.

While an increase is shown in these three crops, a decrease in production is shown for wheat, hay and tobacco crops on Appomattox farms and also in all types of livestock.

The white potato crops from Appomattox farms in 1919 totaled 7,428 bushels, and in 1925, 3,431 bushels. In 1929, 21,263 bushels were raised on Appomattox farms. Within ten years, the sweet potato and yam crop yield more than doubled. However, between 1919 and 1924, there was a decrease, so in reality, this crop jumped from a yield of 1,360 bushels to 7,911 during five years.

The corn crop harvested for grain was 183,052 bushels in 1919. In 1929 it had increased to 191,379. But this crop also showed a decrease between 1919 and 1924, so the 1929 crop increased from 143,026 bushels in the last five years.

The number of horses, cattle, and milk cows, on county farms has decreased between 25 and 70 per cent. The number of hogs raised in the county has decreased slightly over 50 per cent. Chicken production at present is slightly more than in 1920, but within the last five years the number raised has decreased by approximately 5000. Twenty-eight boys have signed up to seed an acre each of especeza on their farm so that he qual may have a food supply during the late summer and fall months. The seed is supplied by the state game commission and must stand from two to three years.

Local sportsmen, merchants and game lovers can co-operate by contributing seed and feed for planting as only a limited supply can be procured from the state. R. W. Wilkins instructor in agriculture states. Donations will be received by Mr. Wilkins.

Poem

The New Year

I wish you joys to heal it
If the new year must hold pain,
And quite a lot of rainbows
If you do have rain,
I wish you heaps of roses
So the thorns won't hurt at all.
And ladders made of little hopes
To climb each hampering wall.
I wish you work and its rewards
Until the new year ends,
And peace and rest and happiness,
And friends, and friends, and friends.

Modern "Huck Finn," Grandson of H. C. Babcock, Shaves For Shotgun

Ten-year-old "Huckleberry Finn" Babcock grandson of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Babcock, and son of Dr. Havilah Babcock, lives up to his name in a true story published in a Columbia S. C., paper.

For days he had begged and pleaded with his elders for a shotgun, but to no avail. "No!" Mrs. Babcock had emphatically reiterated to his endless and innumerable queries.

And "No, for the ninth time!" exploded Dr. Havilah Babcock, customarily the debonair English professor.

"Well, then, dad, when can have one?"

Dr. Babcock smiled, "When you begin shaving," he responded pleasantly.

Apparently "Huck" was convinced that further efforts to obtain his heart's desire would be useless, for he allowed an unusually long-for-him period to elapse without renewing his petition.

Then came the astonished voice of Mrs. Babcock, "What in the world is Huck doing? He's got father all over his face!"

Undoubtedly, Dr. Babcock being a dutiful and conscientious parent will present to his son the well-earned and long yearned for shotgun. The writer of the story concludes:

County Agents' Task Stressed by Byrd

Blacksburg—The serious task confronting county agents in helping to carry out such plans as the federal government might sanction for the relief of depressed agricultural conditions in Virginia was stressed by Harry F. Byrd in a speech before the annual conference of farm and home demonstration agents held at Virginia Polytechnic Institute last week.

Mr. Byrd stated that in his opinion, now as never before, farm and home demonstration agents in every county were a necessity in the plan for the rehabilitation of Virginia's agricultural industry.

R. B. Hudgins, county agent here, attended the meetings, returning Saturday.
